Reviewer's report:

Title, abstract and key-words:

It suggested to:

There is no need for statistics in the abstract.

The background should be more summarized.

You need to write about complications in the background.

A final number of the subject should be mentioned in the abstract.

Mention the software for analysis and statistical tests.

The final predictors (female, age more than 65 and SBP>180) are for which time of measurement?

The conclusion is not the interpretation of your study results.

Text:

It suggested to:

Use newer statistics.

The sampling is convenience or consecutive?

There is no need to theoretical definition of variables. It's better to mention the practical definition of variables.

Reliability and validity should be more explained.

The final predictors (female, age more than 65 and SBP>180) are for which time of measurement?

The conclusion should be based on your results.
Add limitation of your study and recommendation for future studies to the end part of the discussion.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes
