Reviewer's report:

The authors have responded to all questions adequately but one. The question about the type of anesthesia used was likely incorrectly responded to. The WHO guidelines recommend lignocaine with or without bipuvicane but not bipuvicane alone. This one factual issue needs to be checked and corrected if incorrectly presented in the paper. This article is not likely to be cited as it doesn't contribute anything new to the literature. That said, if the authors check this one issue and correct it then at this point I would go ahead with publishing the paper.
