Title: Understanding the discriminant factors that influence the adoption and use of clinical communities of practice: the ECOPIH case

Version: 3 Date: 12 May 2015

Reviewer: Filipe Portela

Reviewer’s report:

In general the paper is prepared to be published.

The authors better explained the issues mentioned and also were clear in answering to the questions made.

In terms of my revision, all the issues were addressed.

The content added is suitable and it is in accordance with the reviewer’s requests.

Only a final note, the authors should in the discussion / conclusion section make a overview of the results presented, highlighting the most significant part of the achieved results.

Congratulations for your work.

I will wait for a second paper with a new round of questionnaires and if is it possible with an introduction of new constructs.
