Title: Impact of pharmacist-led medication management in care transitions

Version: 1 Date: 26 Jun 2017

Reviewer: Martin Duerden

Reviewer's report:

This is an interesting study and a good attempt to answer a research question. I think you have addressed most of the reviewers comments and suggestions well.

There is an issue about some of the English and language structure - This needs to be corrected.

In the abstract it is important to say that this study is conducted in a UK hospital - so that readers immediately recognise the context.

You describe power calculations in the Discussion section - this should be moved to the Methods section.

On page 10 you say, "However, I was not able to obtain..." The tense has changed, this should say, "It was not possible to obtain....".

Where you say "The Authors have no support of funding to report" - this is not strictly correct? I think you should say that resources were provided from within the hospital and no additional or external funding was required.
