Title: Adoption of Direct-Acting Antiviral Medications for Hepatitis C: A Retrospective Observational Study

Version: 0 Date: 21 Nov 2018

Reviewer: Sheila Teles

Reviewer's report:

Despite the study limitations, I consider that this study provides curious data about adoption of direct-acting antiviral medication for HCV. However, the data presentation is not appropriated. I suggest that the authors consider the line rather than the column to show the percentages in table 2. I believe that presenting the data in this way is more appropriate considering the distribution of the variables.
