Title: Factors Influencing Mothers’ Health Care Seeking Behaviour for Their Children: Evidence from 31 Countries in Sub-Saharan Africa

Version: 0 Date: 01 Jul 2020

Reviewer's report:

The manuscript covers an important topic and area. However, it is poorly written and organized. For example, you don’t have to say children of women—you can just say children. Also, you don’t have to talk about Integrated Management of Childhood Illness in the introduction in details as its not the focus of the study.

The methods section is not adequately described. You mentioned that 31 countries constitute Sub-Saharan Africa which is not true. Description of data collection instruments was poorly done. In the outcome variable section, authors are mixing up words such categorized and defined. Authors did not also state that Table 1 captures information on demographic data of mothers. The manuscript needs a native speaker editing or someone who writes better.

Publons Reviewer Recognition. Springer Nature can send verification of this review directly to Publons (a subsidiary of Clarivate Analytics). If you would like to take advantage of this service, please click on the “Yes” option below. Your name, email address, title of the reviewed manuscript, name of the journal, and date of your review submission (the “Review Data”) will then be transmitted to Publons upon publication of the manuscript. If you have already registered at Publons, they will notify you of the receipt of this review and update your profile as per your settings and their policy. If you are not registered with Publons, you will receive an email from them asking you to register in order for them to be able to recognize your review on your new profile page.
