Title: Human rights' interdependence and indivisibility: A glance over the human rights to water and sanitation

Version: 1  Date: 09 Aug 2018

Reviewer: Audrey Chapman

Reviewer's report:

I think the revised version of your article is improved but it still does not compensate for your mail problem - the lack of sufficient data to do a more meaningful analysis. Your data analysis amounts to only two pages of your article. I also think you may have misinterpreted what your respondents' most fundamental problem is - homelessness - with the lack of access to adequate water and sanitation following from that their homelessness. I don't think that your data are rich enough to offer a basis to assess the interdependence and/or indivisibility of rights.
