1. It is a well-written paper, the objective, methodology and discussion were clearly spelt out. I, however, have few minor concerns;

   -The study focuses on Muslim women living with HIV. The authors can draw a comparison between Muslim women and women from other religions to make a clear distinction between Muslim women and women from other religions.

   -It has been mentioned few times in the paper that HIV cases are on the rise among Muslim women. What can be the possible explanations behind it?

   -I would suggest to make the comparison groups in different studies clearer.
