Version: 0 Date: 12 Sep 2019

Reviewer's report:

The paper addresses an important policy issue in the area of UHC. The methods are adequate for the research question. The discussion however could be based on policy changes that related to the time frame of the data for the study. The authors are basing their conclusions on policies implemented post the survey which may be overstretching the data a bit. May also be important to test whether the differences are statistically significant or not.
