Reviewer's report:

Minor Essential Revisions

There are still English language errors within the manuscript. For instance, in the Abstract, I still don't understand the sentence: "Evolocumab and alirocumab were safe and well-tolerated from our most-powered analyses."

This is a meta-analysis, you didn't actually power it.

There are other errors that I have not mentioned.

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
