Title: Trends of blood pressure and heart rate in normal pregnancies: A systematic review and meta-analysis

Version: 0 Date: 12 Jun 2019

Reviewer: Paolo Eusebi

Reviewer's report:

Methods for summarizing evidence are adequate and well-described.

QUADAS-2 is supposed to be used in diagnostic meta-analyses. Furthermore is not meant for building quality scores. I recommend to use Newcastle Ottawa Scale or ROBINS-I among all the possible tools for the complex evaluation of study quality in non-randomized settings.

Potential limits of the study are not discussed, and I think that the cut-off of 50 patients for the study inclusion should at least reported.
