Title: Relative Validity of a Web-based Food Frequency Questionnaire for Danish Adolescents

Version: 1 Date: 11 Aug 2017

Reviewer: Camille Lassale

Reviewer's report:

The reviewers addressed most of the comments. Minor issues remaining are:

- overall, please check English and punctuation (commas in particular), as this makes the paper difficult to read in some instances.

1.289: change "relay" to "rely"

1.115: if I understand correctly, please modify to :"To compare differences in estimated intake between the two methods, the median difference in percentage was calculated as the median of the following: ((FFQ-24HR)/24HR)*100

1.150: rephrase to: "we found no significant difference for bread, cereals and beverages". How come a difference of 5% is significant and one of 10% is not?

1.179-183: Please split the sentence in half and replace "although" by ":"

1.203: misuse of "however"

1.224: Please check punctuation, it is not the reviewer's job. Replace by "798 nine-

1.221-232 hard to follow. Please change the "however" in the last sentence by "furthermore". It is adding to your reasoning, not contradicting it.
