Title: Effect of Yerba Mate and Green Tea on Paraoxonase and Leptin Levels in Patients affected by Overweight or Obesity and Dyslipidemia: A Randomized Clinical Trial

Version: 1 Date: 27 Jul 2018

Reviewer: Roberta de Oliveira Santos

Reviewer’s report:

Extensive modifications were suggested in the article, but I noticed that the main ones were not made:

- It is not clear whether mild dyslipidemia is an inclusion criterion;

- The substitution of the term "Illex paraguariensis" by Yerba Mate was made automatically, making the text confusing as line 58 "Yogurt (YM) prepared beverages are a potential source ...";

- The adjustment for wine consumption was not made in the models, the results of table 4 are the same as in the old version;
