Reviewer’s report

Title: Optimism is associated with diet quality, food group consumption and snacking behavior in a general population

Version: 0 Date: 28 Aug 2019

Reviewer: Paula Silva

Reviewer's report:

The analysis of food intake associated with eating behavior is a very current topic and needs relevant studies like this one. Some minor points are listed below:

1- Put data collection date on results rather than methodology pages 139-140: "The LOT-R was administered between September and December 2016 to the NutriNet-Santé cohort."

2- Include in the study limitation the large interval between recalls, and self-reported anthropometric data whereas men and women often overestimate their height and underestimate their weight.
