Title: Understanding the factors affecting the attraction and retention of health professionals in rural and remote areas: A mixed method study in Niger

Version: 1 Date: 15 May 2017

Reviewer: Jitske Both-Nwabuwe

Reviewer's report:

The authors have sufficiently addressed the points of concern I raised previously. Two minor points with the new version:

1. The English could be improved in some places, especially in the new added texts.

2. As the paper address feminization as emerging finding, it would benefit the paper if related terms such as 'gender norms', 'gender blind' are explained further. Perhaps some readers are not familiar with those terms.
