Title: Forecasting Imbalances in the Global Health Labor Market and Devising Policy Responses

Version: 0 Date: 28 Oct 2017

Reviewer: Orvill Adams

Reviewer’s report:

The article provides a clear explanation of key differences between the different concepts and the resulting estimates. The discussion supports the Global Strategy and the recommendations of the Commission. I believe that while the article advances the debate it could be made stronger with a short paragraph on how the priority actions could be operationalized.
