Title: Migration Intentions of Asian and African Medical Students Educated in China: A Cross Sectional Study

Version: 3 Date: 23 Oct 2019

Reviewer: Niamh Humphries

Reviewer's report:

Thank you for resubmitting a revised version of the article. The 'flow' of the article in terms of language, is now much improved.

I have just 2 v. minor suggestions.

1. On p6 perhaps use the word 'cohort' instead of 'batch' to describe those who are completing their medical studies at the same time

2. on p10 when you talk about the importance of seeing medical students as a potential workforce, perhaps refer to this recent OECD report (2019) Recent Trends in International Migration of Doctors, Nurses and Medical Students as it (particularly ch2) discusses medical student migration (although only within OECD countries).
