Title: Coordinating Health Workforce Management in a Devolved Context: Lessons from Kenya

Version: 0 Date: 26 Jan 2020

Reviewer: Paul Linsley

Reviewer's report:

In the social and life sciences, a case study is a research method involving an up-close, in-depth, and detailed examination of a particular case or event. This read more like an implementation report, however it proved interesting reading and is in keeping with the Journal's aims. The report is well written and logical in its presentation of material. If I had any criticism, it would be that the report does not explore the challenges and alternative solutions / lessons learnt from implementing the changes. There is a lack an any real analysis of the unpinning methodology supporting the change although it remains interesting to read. It is well illustrated and this supports the readers understanding of the work and what took place.
