Reviewer's report:

I reviewed the manuscript "SUSTAINABILITY OF PUBLIC HEALTH INTERVENTIONS: WHERE ARE THE GAPS?". I found the paper clear, interesting and useful to identify where researchers and policymakers should emphasize actions to assure the sustainability of effective public health interventions. As long as this manuscript is not a research paper but more a discussion paper, I think the information is appropriated according to the publication type.

Regarding the tables, I think table 1 is missing a first column that explains the factors compared among the frameworks. If possible, I would like to see this table again.
