Title: A description of a tailored knowledge translation intervention delivered by knowledge brokers within public health departments in Canada

Version: 0 Date: 28 Dec 2018

Reviewer: Loai Albarqouni

Reviewer's report:

In this study, the authors have discussed their experience in a knowledge translation intervention (using knowledge brokers) on evidence informed decision making in 3 public health departments in Canada. The article is well written and provide important insights for those working in knowledge translation field.

I enjoyed reading the article; but I think that it is more like a "lesson from field" article than a research article.
