Reviewer’s report

Title: Using rapid environmental scan methodology to map country-level global health research expertise in Canada

Version: 0 Date: 30 Dec 2019

Reviewer: Augustina Koduah

Reviewer's report:

The paper is educative and provides useful method to evaluate global health research expertise focused on research funding inputs, activities and outputs. Considering current shifts in research funding this study can inform Canada’s future health research strategies and investments.

The research output was measured by published literature for dissemination and knowledge translation. Kindly elaborate on how research outputs classified as knowledge translation (actual practical use of research findings to inform decisions) was measured?
