Title: Factors associated with early resumption of sexual intercourse among postnatal women in Uganda

Version: 1 Date: 1 June 2015

Reviewer: Ifeanyichukwu Ezebialu

Reviewer’s report:

Minor essential Revision:
1. Please read through and edit the language to take care of some grammatical errors.
2. The authors should state why it is important to determine the time for resuming sexual intercourse in the post partum period. Do you think it can affect antenatal counseling on family planning?

Discretionary Revision:
1. The references may be updated

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field

Quality of written English: Needs some language corrections before being published

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.
