Title: Factors related to healthy sexual and contraceptive behaviors in undergraduate students at University of Seville: A cross-sectional study.

Version: 0 Date: 14 Nov 2017

Reviewer: Antony Chikutsa

Reviewer’s report:

This is a very interesting article on knowledge about contraception among university students. It is often assumed that university students are knowledgeable about contraception thus neglecting continuing sex education among university students. I have two main suggestions:

1. Your manuscript needs thorough editing. In some instances, the sentences read as if they had been translated using software, for example, in your "plain summary".

2. Your conclusion in the abstract is reading like the results. Please bring out your main conclusion(s) from the findings.
