Title: Household Fuel Use and Adverse Pregnancy Outcomes in a Ghanaian Cohort Study

Version: 1 Date: 31 Dec 2019

Reviewer: Namakau Nyambe

Reviewer's report:

Well done responding to all the concerns. Paper reads better.

Line 90 under introduction, do you mean geographical settings around the world or Ghana particularly?

The paper seems to focus on adverse effects in a broader sense but in some parts of the paper, you seem to mention that the focus is hypertension. If the original aim of the study was hypertension but in the analysis you also looked at other adverse effects you might want to make that clear in the paper.
