Title: Correction of Aortic Coarctation in a Girl with severe PHACE Syndrome

Version: 1

Reviewer’s report:

1. So far the report is only a description of the syndrome. That is not enough! An "I have done that" report is not suitable for publication anywhere.
2. The authors fail to describe their approach. Ans, WHY they opted for a tube graft. In my mind they must elucidate that. A graft will require redo surgery at some point. Why not a patch plasty? All this, pros and cons, need to be mentioned & discussed.
3. That means also a more detailed list of references.
4. Figures are fine.
