Title: Post-intubation tracheal stenosis after management of complicated aortic dissection: A case series

Version: 2  Date: 6 May 2015

Reviewer: Balakrishnan Mahesh

Reviewer’s report:

Interesting report. I agree that this is a reasonably frequent occurrence and is often underdiagnosed and underreported. Treatment options are available and the authors method of treating with cryotherapy is good but not novel. The authors can briefly comment on the other options available ie, stenting, laser, surgery, etc, instead of repeating the cases in the discussion. In fact a lot of the repetitive material maybe removed and the above maybe discussed. There are still some typographical errors which should be addressed.
