Title: Two-port Approached Thoracoscopic Carina Reconstruction Using Natural Bronchial Bifurcation

Version: 0 Date: 05 Jun 2016

Reviewer: Thorsten Walles

Reviewer’s report:

This is an interesting case-study describing a new surgical technique for central airway surgery. The manuscript is written concisely. Language is good. To increase the intelligibility of the paper:

- please describe in the intraoperative airway management in more detail
- please indicate anatomical structures in Fig. 3
- please show fotos of incisions since you claim a minimal invasive approach
