Reviewer's report:

In this manuscript, the authors reviewed the relevant literature concerning recent advances in surgical intervention of aortic arch and summarized their opinions in the application of branched stent graft in aortic dissection. The authors concluded the selection of branched stent grafts, the anatomic features and pathological changes of diseased arch are the crucial factors for clinical decision making. In they study, they got the satisfactory results, and they also summarized the selection of branched stent grafts still remains to be further discussed. In short, I recommend to accept.
