Title: Salvage Thoracic Surgery in Patients with Lung Cancer: potential indications and benefits

Version: 0 Date: 19 Dec 2017

Reviewer: Marco Anile

Reviewer’s report:

Dear Author,

the issue of the paper is interesting and useful for thoracic surgeons. It is important to clearly classify subgroups of patients that can benefit from this aggressive approach. It should be interesting to know what kind of operation has been performed in the two patients died after 2 and 3 months for cardiac failure. A statistical analysis with multivariate analysis should be performed. There are some little problems with punctuation.
