Title: Identification of Preoperative Prediction Factors of Tumor Subtypes for Patients with Solitary Ground-glass Opacity Pulmonary Nodules

Version: 0 Date: 03 Dec 2017

Reviewer: Giuseppe Marulli

Reviewer's report:

The Authors report the findings of a retrospective study on prognostic factors of histological subtyoes in GGO lesions operated on. The paper is interesting and well written regarding the contents, however the english is poor and needs an extensive revision by a native english speaker.

In addition, the tables and figures are too much and should be reduced in number. Some data (i.e. EGFR mutation status...) are not useful for the paper and could be avoided in the text.

Finally, the paper is interesting and the findings could be useful in the clinical practice, particularly for the Chinese population.
