Title: Adult lung transplantation case-volume and in-hospital and long-term mortality in Korea

Version: 1 Date: 30 Dec 2018

Reviewer's report:

Dear authors,

I have carefully read your responses to reviewers' comments, and was able to better understand the point of the paper.

Although this paper is largely limited to Korean situation and cut-off value of 5 between low and high volume centers is arbitrary, I think it could also be applied to other countries newly starting lung transplantation programs.

Thank you for submitting your good manuscript for JCTS.

P.S. I think that one of the reasons why the survival rate is low in Korea is that the severity of preoperative conditions of recipients is significantly high compared with Western countries.
