Title: Increased risk for the development of postoperative severe hypoxemia in obese women with acute type A aortic dissection

Version: 0 Date: 25 Feb 2019

Reviewer: Eduardo Rocha

Reviewer’s report:

An index between PA O2 (mmHg) divided by FiO2 (in percentages) can not be expressed in mmHg. This is simply a numerical expression used for reference. I'd like to understand why do you express this index in mmHg?

A photo or drawing of the most commonly used surgical technique would be useful.

There's some typing error in discussion (patients suffered, differences between). Must have a space between the words.
