Title: Differential Lung Ventilation for Increased Oxygenation during One Lung Ventilation for Video Assisted Lung Surgery

Version: 0 Date: 25 Feb 2019

Reviewer: Paul Forrest

Reviewer’s report:

This is a well designed and well written study.

The study findings regarding the utility of low-volume ventilation of the non-dependent lung during on-lung ventilation are clinically relevant.

My only comment is that the axes of the figures need to be labelled appropriately (i.e. "mmHg" etc)
