Title: Resection of a huge mediastinal well-differentiated liposarcoma involving left thoracic cavity

Version: 0 Date: 26 May 2019

Reviewer: Walid Abu Arab

Reviewer's report:

I would like to thank the authors for the efforts to write and submit this case study. The authors have presented a case of mediastinal liposarcoma under the title (Resection of a huge mediastinal well-differentiated liposarcoma involving left thoracic cavity). I have some comments to the authors:

1) The manuscript has some grammatical and language mistakes that should be revised and corrected.

2) The authors did not mention any special technique or a new technique for the management or surgical resection of this mass.

3) The eight month follow up is not a long period for deciding for good control of the disease.

4) There is no photo for postoperative follow up either CXR or CT. However, the photos included are informative and of good quality.
