Title: MORBIDITY AND MORTALITY OF SERIOUS GASTROINTESTINAL COMPLICATIONS AFTER LUNG TRANSPLANTATION

Version: 0 Date: 22 Jul 2019

Reviewer: Marco Anile

Reviewer's report:

Dear Author,

the issue is enough interesting. The lower percentage of GI complications in your series probably is due to low percentage of CF patients in your population. Some suggestions: 1) No data about acute rejection are reported. 2) Since hemodynamic problems could explain the genesis of GI complications it should be interesting to know whether extracorporeal circulation was introduced in urgency. 3) The graph is written in Spanish.4) How many patients had preoperative GI problems?
