Title: Right atrial and SVC infiltrating mass-the entity of infiltrating lipoma

Version: 0 Date: 05 Oct 2019

Reviewer's report:

Congratulations on writing up this interesting case report. I do agree it is one of the rare surgical cases that we come across. Commonly we get referrals for atrial myxoma, which in itself is indication for surgical excision. But when there is a doubt about infiltration, we need to plan for repair of the excised tissues accordingly.
