Title: Clinically-evident tophi are associated with reduced muscle force in the foot and ankle in people with gout: a cross-sectional study

Version: 1 Date: 05 Jun 2017

Reviewer: Scott Telfer

Reviewer's report:

The authors have addressed most of my concerns and improved the quality of the manuscript. A final minor correction is that in the methods and conclusion sections of the abstract the pain variable is simply described as "pain". The reviewers appear to be in agreement that it is important to emphasize that what was measured was "recent pain".
