Title: Coordination among the rearfoot, midfoot, and forefoot during walking

Version: 2 Date: 14 Aug 2017

Reviewer: Alexander Izod

Reviewer's report:

Thank you completing and sending an amended version of your manuscript. I can see evidence that the authors of this work have responded to my previous feedback in a positive manner and have made amendments to the work accordingly. Whilst I still have my reservations regarding the manner in which foot posture was assessed, I am willing to accept the rationale behind the use of the "too many toes sign" and accept the amendment made to this section of the document. Regarding the level of written English, there is evidence that amendments have been made to the text, specifically appertaining to the examples I cited previously. I do note, however, that there are still mistakes in the work regarding spelling and construction which I would advise should be addressed before publication e.g. sentences 56, 140, 318, 363 and 557 - 559.
