Title: Diabetic Foot Australia guideline on footwear for people with diabetes

Version: 1 Date: 26 Dec 2017

Reviewer’s report:

To the authors and editor

I note the significant improvements to the article, in particular the authors intention to now tabulate key recommendations which will make it easier for the reader to pull these from the text.

Unfortunately, my comment about MGF off-the-shelf vs custom has been misinterpreted. Indeed, it was not to suggest a debate between the relative merits, but rather, to suggest the author provide "guidance with regards to custom versus off-the-shelf provided" given that the new evidence is derived from a study of custom-made footwear and that I suspect the majority of MGF prescribed in Australia is not custom made.

Congratulations on bringing together this information to inform practice.
