Reviewer’s report:

Congratulations on a neat and concise research project which will be a useful addition to the clinical tool bag. The content of this work is great, and I have no real criticism to the project, there are however a couple of suggestions that you may wish to consider. You state a reason for your sample size and later go on to state about power, I would put this altogether in one paragraph to reduce any confusion. Page 8 you refer to Figure 2 and 3 in the text and I think this should be 1 & 2.
