Title: Late onset asymptomatic Pancreatic Neuroendocrine tumor - A case report on the phenotypic expansion for MEN1

Version: 0 Date: 07 Feb 2017

Reviewer: Barbara Jarząb

Reviewer's report:

Primary hyperparathyroidism is the most common part of MEN1 which occurs in 95% of MEN1 patients. It means that many affected people do not develop mentioned MEN1 component. 5% cases without PHP is enough common not to pay special attention to publish this case report.

I congratulate MEN1 investigation in your Genetic Department. Maybe you can present new mutations or undescribed MEN1 constellations.
