Title: EMOTIONAL IMPACT ON THE RESULTS OF BRCA1 AND BRCA2 GENETIC TEST: AN OBSERVATIONAL RETROSPECTIVE STUDY

Version: 0 Date: 14 Jul 2017

Reviewer: Diane J. Bailey

Reviewer's report:

For future research, it might be interesting to allow open-ended responses from healthy relatives of probands to try to determine the source of their anxiety. It is possible that it could be related to the cancer treatments/fear of loss for their loved one, and not necessarily anxiety related to genetic testing for BRCA1/2 mutations.
