Reviewer's report:

1. This entire paper needs to be proofread and edited again to smoothen out the English language. There are still a lot of typos and grammatical mistakes in the whole manuscript. And many sentences lost punctuations. Many sentences are too long to understand the meaning correctly. We suggest that the authors seek professional advice from a native English speaker.

2. The detailed description of the treatment need to be added in your text.

3. If the patient has recently used other drugs, they'd better be eliminated.

4. There were so many contents to describe the statistical analysis method.
