Reviewer's report:

Dear Editor,

Thank you for your invitation to review the manuscript titled "PREDOMOS study, Impact of a social intervention program for socially isolated elderly cancer patients: Update to the study protocol for a randomized controlled Trial". This study provides an update of a previously published protocol of a study exploring the impact of a Program of Social Intervention on quality of life in elderly isolated patients. The previous reviewer has already highlighted some important changes which have been addressed by the authors. I do not have any substantial changes to suggest except that there are some minor grammatical errors throughout the manuscript (i.e., abstract line 5, "Predomos study investigate").
