Reviewer's report

Title: Inclusion body myositis in a patient with chronic myeloid leukemia treated with dasatinib: a case report

Version: 3 Date: 5 June 2015

Reviewer: Ahmet Emre Eskazan

Which of the following best describes what type of case report this is?: An unexpected event in the course of observing or treating a patient

Do you believe the case report is authentic?:
I personally think that the presented case is in some ways authentic.

Do you have any ethical concerns?:
For my point of view, this reported case does not have any ethical issues.

Is the Abstract representative of the case presented?:
Yes it is.

Does the Introduction explain the relevance of the case to the medical literature?:
Yes the authors did explain the relevance of the case presented to the recent medical literature.

Does the article report relevant patient information?: Yes
Does the article report relevant physical examination findings?: Yes
Does the article report important dates and times in this case?: Yes
Does the article report the diagnostic assessments?: Yes
Does the article report the types of intervention?: Yes
Does the article report a summary of the clinical course of all follow-up visits?: Yes

If any information is missing from the reporting, please detail it here.:
I think there are 2 points which should be briefly underlined.
First the status of the patient regarding NHL throughout the follow-up period (i.e. he remained in remission for the entire period)

Second, the follow-up ends in June 2013 approximately 2 years ago. The authors should update the case presentation and fill in the missing information which happened during the 2 year time.

Is the interpretation (discussion and conclusion) well balanced and supported by the case presented?:

Yes they were.

Does the case represent a useful contribution to the medical literature?:

I guess it does.

Was written informed consent to publish this case obtained?: Yes

Is the anonymity of the patient protected?:

NA.

Additional comments to authors?:

None.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Declaration of competing interests:

None.