Title: Anti-glomerular basement membrane glomerulonephritis following nintedanib for idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis: A case report

Version: 0 Date: 27 Apr 2017

Reviewer: M Touzot

Reviewer's report:

The case is well written and clear. However, i ve got some concerns before considering for publication.

1/r Whether the tyrosine kinase inhibitor is the primary cause of the Anti-GBM is still speculative. In order to convince the reader, the authors should discussed the possible role of lung as the primary triggers for Auto-antiboby response. The authors claim that "It is possible the change in the glomeruli architecture is enough to expose glomerular basement membrane to circulating anti-GBM antibodies". Did they detect AntiGBM Ab prior to admission?

2/ Did the patient had Bronchoalveolar Lavage to eliminate concomitant infection as a cause of triggering. $

3/ i will moderate their statement that anti-GBM disease is a potential complication of nintedanib. it is still speculative.
