Title: Anatomical variant of the meniscus related to posterior junction: a case report

Version: 0 Date: 28 Oct 2017

Reviewer: Pınar Çeltikçi

Reviewer’s report:

Authors present a case report of an anatomical variant of the meniscus. Issues and my recommendations regarding this manuscript are listed below.

Case Report:

* This is a well-written case report with a clear message.
* The term 'arc of movement' is unusual. Shouldn't it be 'range of motion'?
* Post-operative imaging would improve the manuscript if available.

Figures:

* Are these T1 weighted MRI images? I can clearly see that they are fat-saturated but the knee effusion is hyperintense so these should be T2 weighted or PD images. Please comment.
