Version: 0 Date: 03 Sep 2019

Reviewer: Binny Khandakar

Reviewer's report:

1. Do you believe the case report is authentic?
   Yes

2. Do you have any ethical concerns? Please consider if local Institutional Review Board approval or ethical approval was obtained (if appropriate) and if the patient (or their parent or guardian in the case of children under 18) gave written, informed consent to publish this case and any accompanying images. A statement to this effect should appear in the manuscript.
   Comments: no

3. Does the Introduction explain the relevance of the case to the medical literature?
   Yes

4. Does the article report the following information? Where information is missing, please specify.
   a. The relevant patient information, including:
      - De-identified demographic information (age, gender, ethnicity)
      - Main symptoms of the patient
      - Medical, family and psychosocial history
      - Relevant past interventions and their outcomes

   b. The relevant physical examination findings

   c. Important dates and times in this case (if appropriate, organized as a timeline via a figure or table); if specific dates could lead to patient identification, consider including time relevant to initial presentation, i.e. initial presentation at T = 0, follow up at T = 1 month.

   d. Diagnostic assessments, including:
      - Diagnostic methods
      - Challenges (e.g., financial, language/cultural)
      - Reasoning and prognostic characteristics (e.g., staging), where applicable

   e. Types and mechanism of intervention

   f. A summary of the clinical course of all follow-up visits
Comments:
more details on follow up visit is necessary.

5. Is the interpretation (discussion and conclusion) well balanced and supported by the case presented?
Comments:
youngs a well written article, however, the article needs to be re-written focusing more on DLBCL rather than giant cell arteritis. the current case is of DLBCL, mimicking some signs and symptoms of giant cell arteritis. the focus needs to be towards the mimickers of giant cell arteritis. the potential pitfall of diagnosis of GCA and its mimickers needs emphasis.

6. Is the anonymity of the patient protected? Please consider any identifying information in images such as facial features or nametags, whether the patient is named etc. If not, please detail below.
Yes

7. Is the Abstract representative of the case presented?
Comments:
needs to be modified keeping in mind of the discussion, as stated above.

8. Does the case represent a useful contribution to the medical literature?
Comments:
yes. however the approach to discussion needs extensive modification.

9. Additional comments for the author(s)?
