Availability and Performance of Image Based, Non-Contact Methods of Monitoring Heart Rate, Blood Pressure, Respiratory Rate, and Oxygen Saturations: A Systematic Review Protocol

Systematic Reviews

The updated manuscript by Harford et al. adequately addresses all suggestions and concerns raised during the past round of revisions. In particular, the statistical methods outlined by the authors in anticipation of any quantitative synthesis is acceptable in the case of potential meta-analysis of part or all of the data. Although the major challenge in synthesizing such data will be the likely significant heterogeneity in technology or modalities, this is an expected consequence of undertaking a comprehensive systematic review with a wide scope in nature.
