Title: Evaluating Sustainability in the Childhood Obesity Research Demonstration Project: The Model and Process

Version: 0 Date: 20 Nov 2019

Reviewer: Herman Van Oyen

Reviewer's report:

This is an import topic identifying a major weakness of population interventions program, especially the lack of integrating the sustainability issue from the start. The article is well done. It may be helpful for the reader if the authors could visualize the conceptual framework in a graph and if the lessons learned could be summarized in a table indicating the problem (or lesson) identified and suggestions on how to avoid or solve the problem. The authors also described the use of several of checklists (with the references). From the reading, it is not clear if the checklists were specific to CORD or more generic. If generic, I would suggest that they could be provided as supplementary material (with reference to the initial publication).
